

CASE STUDY

Project: Preparation of House Set Outs from Survey Data in CAD
Customer: Leading provider of Building Survey Services in Australia

Requirement

The client – a leading Australian provider of surveying services like Survey plan, House Set-out using modern computer software – has invited AABSyS to provide the following services for their projects:

- Drafting of survey plans
- Setting out house on the required lot for finding a proper location with respect to the boundaries

Solution Offered

- For this project AABSyS had used Carlson Software, a modern CAD based platform for the drafting and set outs
- Customer had assigned the job using Web app utility which gives both AABSyS and the customer a clarity on the status of the job
- AABSyS team had maintained continuous correspondence with the client through emails, phone and instant message communication for resolving queries and sharing status updates

Technology Used

- AABSyS had used Carlson Software - a modern CAD based software for the drafting and set outs
- For work assignment and status updates, the client had opted for the Web app utility that provided technical teams at AABSyS and the client's side clarity on the work status
- AABSyS project team had been in continuous correspondence with the client's technical team through email, phone and instant messaging communications to solve queries and status updates

Client's Advantage

- The services provided by AABSyS helped the customer in successfully completing their project on time with no errors
- The client appreciated the work done at AABSyS as the deliverables were provided with high quality in a time-bound and cost effective manner
- House set out plans were done flawless and the same were used effectively
- The technical team at AABSyS comprises of qualified and experienced civil engineers who understands the needs of the Architecture, Engineering and Construction industry very well